DEDICATED TO

Clark Caterer grew up in Midland, Michigan, graduating from Midland High School in 1954. His favorite subjects were Latin and Geometry at this time, but in college his interest centered around public speaking and biology. He became involved in broadcasting at Central Michigan University at the time the radio station was built and he was also on a debating team. From CMU he earned a BA in secondary education with a major in biology and minors in speech and sociology. He also has a Master of Arts in biology.

Mr. Caterer came to Coleman to teach in 1963. During his years here, he has taught general science, earth science, biology, sociology/psychology, and anatomy/physiology. As a matter of fact, he is the only biology teacher Coleman has had since he began teaching.

Science is a rapidly advancing field, yet he keeps up in new information, adding it to classroom discussions when necessary. His knowledge in the field makes his classes challenging, and fun for those who choose to meet the challenge.

Outside the classroom, Mr. Caterer has drawn on his speech qualifications to work with the drama club. He has directed and produced three musicals here at Coleman High: "Oklahoma" in 1967, "The sound of Music" in 1968, and "How to Succeed in Business" in 1969. He also did set design and technical work for many junior and senior plays.

Besides working with the drama club, Mr. Caterer has also served as a class advisor and a committee advisor several times.

Recently, Mr. Caterer completed an Associate Business/Computer Information Systems/Programming degree at Delta College, a field he's interested in getting involved in after retiring from teaching.

STUDENT LIFE

This year Comet fans showed their enthusiasm by painting their faces blue and white and buying "Comet-chiefs" from the Pom Pon squad. Their enthusiasm helped take the 1987-1988 varsity basketball team to the top to the JPC and 1st in the district.

The things we do to make a statement.

FAD AND FASHION '88

Are we advertising alcoholic beverages in the schools? Bud Light's commercials portraying a dog named Spuds MacKenzie (who looks like the dog from "Little Rascals") as the original party animal were a big hit this year. Immediately T-shirts and other articles of clothing with this dog on them appeared. Some schools banned clothing of this type because it was advertising something illegal for minors to have. (Below: MARK BROWN)

One could not walk into school this year without seeing people who were wearing stone-washed jeans, shirts, or jackets. Jean was in, as evidenced by the school survey showing Lee and Levi as the first and third favorite brand of clothes.

TOP: You may not be able to tell but these are Jamie Herkel's legs. Notice the Reebok tennis shoes which were also popular this year.

ABOVE: Heather Methner is wearing a stone-washed jean skirt and a Stefans top. Stefans ranked fourth on the survey and Guess pulled ahead of Levi into second place.

It looks like someone had it in for Mr. Clarke. They showed their anger by T. Ping his house.

BELOW: Tammy Wells sends a dual message. One by phone and one on her T-shirt.

T-shirts with a message was the norm for the year.

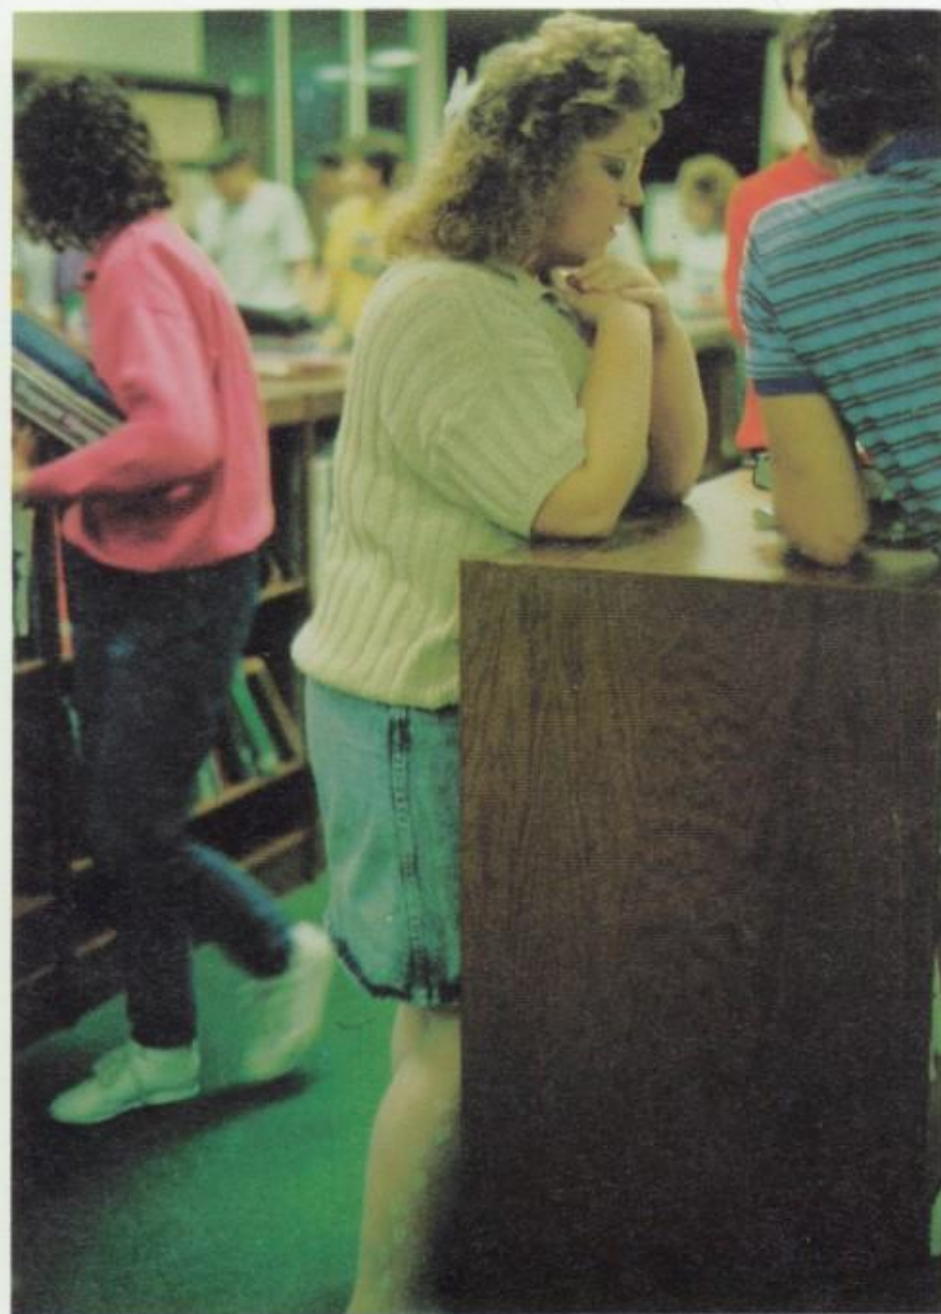

ABOVE: Seniors Mark Todd, Brent Brugger, and Rich Mueller advertise subjects from the right to "bear arms" to being perfect.

BELOW: Tammy Medford, Brenda Densmore, Leann Hackett, Merica Fliegerbauer, and Charlotte Hilliker are more animalistic in their messages.

RIGHT: Another student fad is decorating your locker as can be seen by Sherry Bauder's "hunks".

SHOW SOME SPIRIT !!

For Spirit Week 1987 the Student Council designated the days as follows: Monday—inside-out, upside-down day; Tuesday—twin day; Wednesday—blue and white day; Thursday—imitate a teacher day; and Friday—dress up day.

LEFT: Jamie Herkel gets into the spirit Wednesday by painting his face blue and white.

BELOW: The freshman-senior powder puff football team yells encouragement to their teammates on the field.

Homecoming Queen and King

Cheryl Buckingham Rick Acker

LEFT: Freshmen "Jailhouse Rock"

BELOW: Seniors "Whip It"

RIGHT: The football team makes homecoming a happy affair as they trounce their opponent 32 to zip.

RIGHT: Homecoming court attendants juniors Joe Aultman and Chris Hubble; sophomores Todd Hasenfratz and Darla Cronk; and freshmen Jason O'dell and Tasha Burch.

BELOW: Senior attendants included Lisa Owens congratulating Queen Cheryl, Neil Berthume, Tonia O'Dell, Scott Thorn, and Charlotte Auscher. Looking on is Rick Ackerman who was just announced as being the elected King.

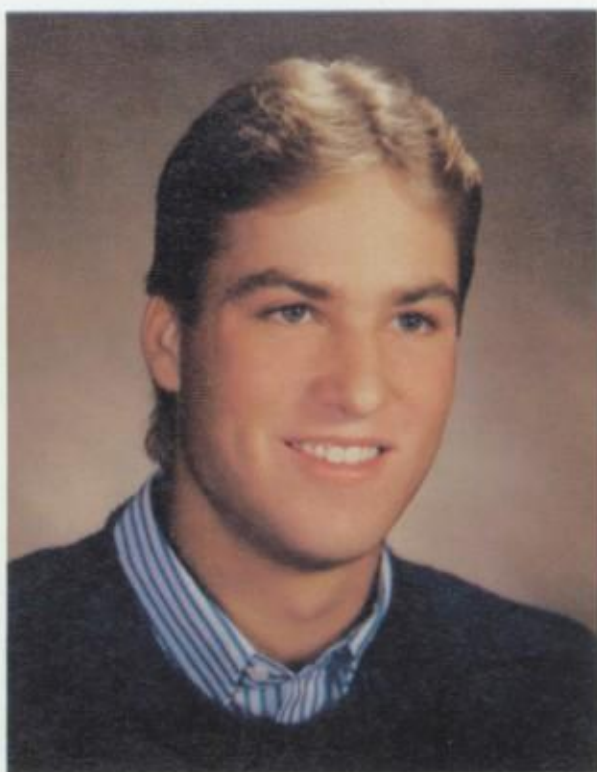

SENIORS

Academics came first for these fifteen seniors. They are the top graduates from the 1987—1988 class.

From bottom to top are: first row Heather Baker, Brent Brugger, Cheryl Brugger, Cathy Chappel, Jamie Dana, valedictorian Jamie Heffron, and David Juengel.

In the back row are: Kelly Maher, Craig Mira, Lance Misner, Nicholas Shadoff, Steve Wazny, and Salutatorian Vicki Wilste.

CHS DRAMA CLUB

NINE COACHES WAITING

LEFT : "The view of the Savoy Alps is quite breath-taking ." Madame deValmy is introducing Linda, the newly arrived governess to the people and attractions of the Valmy estate.

LEFT : Leon "You've had your fling, now marry a rich woman ." Raoul "I have no taste for the role of a gigolo, even when dignified by marriage. " Raoul doesn't get along with his father and refuses to be like him.

RIGHT : "Get out of here, you swine ! " - Raoul grabs Bernard by the shoulder and throws him out. Bernard had come to get Charlotte.

LEFT : "Raoul ! " - Linda exclaims as she falls off the stool into the arms of Raoul .

"Blake, Bill Blake."

Mr. Blake, the friendly neighbor introduces himself to Uncle Hubert, Charlotte's real guardian.
